

QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY
Kingston, Canada
K7L 3N6

DEPARTMENT OF GEOGRAPHY

APPLICATION FOR GRADUATE TEACHING ASSISTANTSHIP

The Department of Geography each year is able to offer a number of Graduate Teaching Assistantships to graduate students. Duties consist of demonstrating in laboratories or acting as tutors in undergraduate classes. Laboratory work is a regular part of undergraduate physical geography and cartography courses, whereas tutorials are commonly held in human geography courses. Assistantships are available in many first and second year courses.

I, _____, apply for a Graduate Teaching Assistantship in the Department of Geography, Queen's University. My preferences regarding subject area are ranked below, 1 being first choice, 2 second etc.:

- Economic _____
- Urban _____
- Historical-Cultural _____
- Climatology _____
- Geomorphology _____
- Hydrology _____
- Soils _____
- Biogeography/Landscape Ecology _____
- Remote Sensing _____
- Environmental Science _____
- GIS/Cartography _____
- Quantitative methods _____

I have had previous experience as a tutor or demonstrator at _____ (university) in _____ (courses).

PLEASE RETURN TO:

Dr. A. Kobayashi
Graduate Coordinator
Department of Geography
Queen's University
Kingston, Ontario, CANADA
K7L 3N6

Signed: _____

Address: _____
